

Stored Procedures

Login - if username and password match database, return true and some info, else return false.

Create user - check if username is taken, if not then create user/password else return false or taken notice.